

Arguments on Consumer Bill Continue

VOL. 73—No. 1—12 Pages

HOPE, ARKANSAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1971

WASHINGTON (AP) — Campaigning for a "friend-of-the-consumer" approach to governmental buyer protection, Rep. Don Fuqua, D-Fla., is urging Congress to stay away from "a watchdog that would go out and bite some other agency."

Grinding today into a third day of argument over the Government Operations Committee's version of a consumer protection bill, the House arranged for a vote on the Fuqua's plan. His proposal would give the new agency the status of adviser—handing out "a friendly warning" to other agencies—but without the power to enter federal proceedings as a legal party with the rights of "adversary advocate" of consumer interests.

Fuqua's amendment was offered as a substitute to one Ralph Nader's backers put forth adding more power to the agency as proposed in the bill under consideration.

Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., denounced Fuqua's move as an attempt to "seriously weaken the bill.... It would be one of the (new agency) administrator's hands behind his back and make him come, hat in the other hand, to plead the consumer's cause."

The Fuqua amendment was aimed at replacing a proposal introduced by Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., and endorsed by Nader supporters.

Moorhead's contention was that the committee version of the bill would bar the new agency from intervening as a legal party in more than 90 percent of other agencies' actions affecting consumers.

The bill's supporters vigorously denied the charge. Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, R-N.J., senior GOP member of the committee, said the amendment would add nothing to the powers of the new agency.

The first section of the committee's three-part plan was accepted without dispute. It would give statutory underpinning to the White House Office of Consumer Affairs. The third part of the bill, creating a 15-member consumer advisory council, is generally noncontroversial and is expected to win swift approval.

Mild Days and Cool Nights in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mild days and cool nights are forecast for Arkansas through the weekend.

No rain of consequence is expected.

The weak cool front that moved into the northwest portion of the state early Wednesday brought some increased cloudiness during the day but no measurable amounts of rainfall.

Highs Wednesday were in the 70s in the north portion and the mid 80s in the south. Highs today are forecast in the upper 70s to mid 80s with highs Friday in the low and mid 80s.

Lows tonight should be in the low 40s north portion to upper 50s south.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 36, Harrison 43, Jonesboro 48, Pine Bluff 53, Texarkana 56, El Dorado 51, Memphis 55, Little Rock 52 and Fort Smith 43.

Federal Funds Are Sought

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Family Planning Council has asked for federal funds for a volunteer sterilization program for men and women in nine Northwest Arkansas counties.

The council has requested $7,500 for vasectomies for men and $6,000 for tubular operations for women over a year's period.

Identical applications were sent to the Office of Economic Opportunity and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The application is for Benton, Washington, Madison, Carroll, Boone, Marion, Baxter, Newton, and Searcy counties.

Agnew Willing to Take a Low Profile Administration Putting Final Touches on Bill Extending Freeze Power

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

PERSEPOLIS, Iran (AP) —

Some of the guests at the Shah of Iran's big birthday party are rumored to be unhappy at their place in the pecking order.

With kings, presidents, sultans, prime ministers and lesser lights from more than 50 countries assembled at this desert capital of ancient Persia, the shah is sticking to the protocol rules set down a century and a half ago at the Congress of Vienna.

These same rules governed such a major occasion as the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, and nobody seemed to mind. But tales of discontent are floating around the glittering tent city that the shah erected to celebrate the 2,500th anniversary of the Persian throne which his father—a peasant-born professional soldier—seized in 1921.

One rumor has it that Kai-Uwe von Hassel, president of the West German Parliament, was unhappy about being assigned to a nearby hotel with lesser guests while the princess of Afghanistan took over the tent that had been assigned to

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Nixon administration is putting final touches on a bill extending its authority to control wages, prices and rents until April 1973, and seeking new powers to limit interest rates and dividends.

The administration is expected to ask Congress for quick approval of the legislation, which also may add a new dimension to President Nixon's post-freeze controls—an emergency court of appeals to hear cases arising from his new economic program.

The measure also may include authority for the Pay Board and the Price Commission, key boards in Nixon's Phase 2 program, to subpoena records needed for investigations of wage-price cases.

The board and the commission will have power to develop wage-price standards and to approve individual pay and price increases.

The new court would speed up litigation that is sure to come after the freeze ends Nov. 13. Officials also said it would make the government's job of compliance easier—it could simply go to the new court with

Heavy Damage in Accident

Senate Group Limits Aid to Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to strap a limit on U.S. military aid to Cambodia—both in dollars and manpower—and has added a provision against large-scale American involvement.

Sen. Clifford Case, R-N.J., reported the committee decided Wednesday to hold spending for the Southeast Asian nation to $250 million and the number of U.S. military personnel to 200.

Case said he expects the Senate to pass the proposed ceiling especially in light of its recent limit on U.S. spending in Laos.

The committee tied to the measure a proposal by Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., to include in any spending ceiling the declaration that the continuance of U.S. military and economic aid shall never be interpreted as a commitment to involve large-scale U.S. efforts to defend the country.

Senators reported the committee voted 9 to 4 to approve the Case measure. It was tacked on as an amendment to the general foreign aid appropriation bill.

Another measure relating to the Southeast Asian war—a six-month congressional deadline on U.S. military involvement—is at issue in the House.

House Armed Services Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., announced that the House action on a $21 billion weapons procurement bill containing the Senate's war halt amendment will come next Tuesday.

Services for Acheson Set for Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The funeral for former Secretary of State Dean Acheson has been scheduled for Friday afternoon. The diplomat was hailed around the world Wednesday, following his death at age 78 from an apparent heart attack Tuesday evening at his farm home in Sandy Spring, Md.

Services are to be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Washington Cathedral, with burial later in private.

Judge Calls Up Defiant Dock Workers

By TIM REITERMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge has ordered two longshore union officials to show why they should not be punished for defying a back-to-work order in the West Coast dock strike.

U.S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert on Wednesday night ordered a show cause hearing after government attorneys argued that the union was in contempt of court because workers in the Los Angeles-Long Beach area and Oakland were off the job.

The petition filed by U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. accuses International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Locals 13 and 63 in Los Angeles-Long Beach and Local 10 in Oakland of failing to comply with a temporary restraining order which sent most of the 15,000 ILWU members back to work Saturday after a 100-day walkout.

Sweigert ordered the hearing Friday, the same day he is to hear arguments on government efforts to expand the 10-day temporary restraining order issued Oct. 6 into an 80-day cooling off period under the Taft-Hartley Act.

On the Gulf and East coasts, some 38,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Association went into the 14th day of their strike against shippers and 100,000 United Mine Workers remained idle in a strike against soft coal operators in 20 states also entered its 14th day.

Scattered acts of violence were reported in the coal strike, including the burning of a repair shop at a nonunion coal firm's trucking headquarters at St. Clairsville, W. Va.

Some 100 men were involved, police said, estimating damage to the Ohio River Collieries facility at $40,000.

The coal strike brought on a supply pinch at a number of industries dependent on coal and railroads reported many layoffs with coal transportation cut to a trickle.

Nobel Prize to Vanderbilt Doctor

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Dr. Earl Sutherland of Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., won today the 1971 Nobel Prize in Physiology and Medicine for his research in hormones.

The Kansas-born veteran hormone researcher was cited by the Karolinska Medical Institute, which decides the award, for his "discoveries concerning the mechanisms of the action of hormones."

Sutherland, 55, picks up a cash prize of $88,000, as well as the inestimable prestige of the coveted prize.

DeQueen Asks More Gas From La. -Nev. Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony before a Federal Power Commission hearing examiner resumed Wednesday on a request by the city of De Queen, Ark., for more natural gas.

The hearings recessed July 26 to allow attorneys for both sides to examine exhibits presented in earlier testimony.

De Queen has requested the FPC to order the Louisiana-Nevada Transit Co. to sell it more gas. The company refused the city's original request and De Queen appealed to the FPC.

The basic issue being argued is whether alleged human needs can overshadow a company's obligations to its industrial customers.

The company has argued that it does not have the facilities to increase the supply of gas to De Queen without reducing the supply available to its industrial customers.

Emmet Access to 1-30 Rushed, Completion Is Expected in 6 Weeks

Little Rock (10-14) The Arkansas Highway Department has issued a work order for base and surfacing of 3.3 miles of highway 299 east of Hope.

The new facility will be a two lane roadway built to high standards to serve heavy truck traffic between interstate route 30 and U.S. 67 at Emmet. It is being rushed to completion in order that a 6.5 mile completed segment of interstate 30 freeway may be opened to traffic.

According to highway director Ward Goodman, when the connection to Emmet is completed in about 6 weeks, the traffic congestion will be relieved through downtown Hope.

A construction contract was awarded to the Arkansas Rock & Gravel Company for $224,476, at the highway commission meeting on September 27.

Construction supervision is being handled by John Tallant, the Highway District Engineer for the Hope district.

Democratic Reformers Lose Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic reformers faced another uphill fight today after a lopsided loss to old-line elements in selecting a key official for next year's nominating convention.

By a 72-31 vote Wednesday, the Democratic National Committee elected Patricia Roberts Harris, a 47-year-old black Washington lawyer, acting chairman of the Credentials Committee. She defeated Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, leader of party-reform efforts for three years.

Mrs. Harris, a long-time associate of Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., is a former ambassador to Luxembourg and former dean of the Howard University Law School.

On the agenda today was an attempt by reformers to undo last February's National Committee action giving a voting delegate's seat at the convention to outgoing committee members. Reform guidelines prohibit ex-officio delegates.

The Credentials Committee is expected to be the battleground next year of numerous delegate challenges resulting from reformed party procedures. These are aimed at making the 1972 convention more democratic and avoiding the controversy that surrounded the turbulent 1968 convention in Chicago.

Reformers had labeled the fight for the credentials post as a key indication of the party's attitude on reform, despite the fact the National Committee, with two members from each state, is hardly a favorable arena for such a battle.

Food Study Commission Divided

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Food Price Study Commission was divided Wednesday at its first meeting over whether groceries in Arkansas are higher than in surrounding states.

C. E. "Doc" Toland of Little Rock, a wholesale grocer, said the state's grocers had a cost-of-operations advantage because of such factors as low investment and construction costs and asked, "How can we be higher?"

Louise Fowler, a labor representative on the commission, replied: "You just are."

The 18-member commission was appointed by Gov. Dale Bumpers to determine if groceries are higher in Arkansas, and, if they are, to identify factors contributing to the costs. Richard W. Longing, director of the state Department of Commerce, told the commission that a "cursory" survey by his department that showed that selected food items in Denver, Amarillo and Oklahoma City were lower than in Little Rock demonstrated that a problem existed.

Longing said that he disagreed with Toland's statement that no problem existed.

He suggested that the commission would want to examine such cost factors as transportation, distribution, marketing, taxes and trading stamps and promotional contests.

Mrs. Clyde Calliotte, head of the Consumer Protection Division of the attorney general's office, said she had received a raft of complaints about high food costs in the state. She also said a newspaper survey showing that food costs in Little Rock were exceeded only by those in Honolulu among 10 cities studied pointed up the problem.

Toland said the survey misrepresented Arkansas food costs and that it unjustly gave the state's food industry an unfavorable image.

City Police reported that another newspaper vending machine was broken into during last night at the 7-11 Store on East Third. . . an undetermined amount of money was taken. . . over the weekend several of the machines were burglarized at the two 7-11 Stores.

Work is proceeding fast on the Emmet access to I-30 and when completed, in about six weeks, all traffic, trucks and cars, will bypass Hope thereby relieving a traffic situation that has been almost impossible for months.

War Deaths Are Lowest in Years

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The total of American battle casualties in Vietnam dropped sharply last week despite fighting along the Cambodian border. The number of dead was the lowest in more than six years.

The U.S. Command said eight Americans were killed and 72 wounded during the week of Oct. 3-9, compared to 21 killed and 117 wounded in the previous week.

It was the smallest number of Americans killed in combat since the week of Aug. 22-28, 1965, when six were killed, the command said.

Another 10 Americans died last week of nonhostile causes, the command reported.

Field reports said 52 North Vietnamese were killed today in a battle four miles northeast of the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Khek when a South Vietnamese ranger battalion supported by armored cavalry collided with an enemy company and some rear guard units.

Artillery from fire bases around Khek and fighter-bombers supported the South Vietnamese, who reported five of their men killed and 20 wounded in the 30-minute action.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said another 12 enemy soldiers were killed as troops of the 21st Division repulsed an attack on the Ben Nui base camp, in the U Minh forest of the lower Mekong Delta about 170 miles southwest of Saigon. Four of the defenders were killed and five were wounded, they said.

The South Vietnamese government's weekly casualty summary reported 33 government troops killed, 877 wounded and 45 missing last week, a slight increase over totals reported the previous week.

The allied commands claimed 1,423 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong kills, 112 less than a revised total of 1,840 the week before.

The allied commands said these are the total reported casualties for the war:

American—45,572 killed in action, 301,936 wounded, 9,813 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese—133,955 killed in action, 229,996 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—777,033 killed.

Tom Purvis to Sing at JFK Foundation

Tom Purvis, son of Tom Purvis of Hope and the late Mrs. Martha Purvis, will be in Washington, D. C., Friday and Saturday as guest entertainer for the Kennedy Foundation for the Mentally Retarded annual meeting. The Foundation has had such entertainers as Ella Fitzgerald in the past.

Tom, who attends the Arkansas Children's Colony in Conway, will be accompanied by Don Pool, head of the ACC's music department. Also, he will be met in Washington by his brother, Joe, who is in Upper Michigan with the military.

Tom will be the Friday luncheon guest of the Arkansas congressional delegation at the House of Representatives dining room. On Saturday he will sing at the Kennedy Foundation luncheon.

The Kennedy Foundation sponsors such activities as the "Special Olympics" for mentally retarded children each year. Each child who participates in the track and swimming events receives a Kennedy Foundation medal no matter how he places. Tom participates in the swimming events each year. Last May he opened the Little Rock meet by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner." Mrs. Eunice Kennedy Shriver was there and afterwards invited Tom to sing for the Saturday luncheon.

Rogers, Eban Discuss Mid East Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers meets with Foreign Minister Abba Eban today in another attempt to sell the U.S. proposals for an interim Middle East agreement to Israel.

Eban was expected to renew Israel's request for more Phantom jet planes from the United States. An Israeli source said he expected his foreign minister would bring up "bilateral issues between the United States and Israel"—and added: "We want Phantoms."

The Soviet Union gave Eban a talking point Wednesday night by issuing a joint communique with Egypt promising to "further strengthen the military might of Egypt."

The communique was issued after Egyptian President Anwar Sadat ended two days of talks in Moscow. Sadat reportedly had gone to the Soviet capital to discuss a response to Rogers' six-point plan for an agreement to reopen the Suez Canal, but the communique made no mention of this.

Rogers and Eban were meeting for the first time since Rogers in a speech to the U.N. General Assembly Oct. 4 urged that Israel and Egypt work through the United States to achieve an interim agreement as a move toward permanent peace.

He suggested six talking points: an understanding that a canal agreement is only a step toward a full agreement, but that the latter agreement is not possible now; a long cease-fire without an Egyptian commitment to permanent nonbelligerence, which also is "not realizable" now; a compromise on the distance Israel would withdraw from the canal; supervisory machinery to detect infractions; a compromise on Egyptian military presence east of the canal, and Israeli use of the canal, with a compromise on its timing.

The day after Rogers spoke, Israeli Premier Golda Meir said his six points had encouraged Egypt to maintain an intransigent attitude. "Instead of strengthening the demand for a cease-fire of unlimited duration, he permitted himself to utter remarks which imply freeing Egypt from responding to Israel's just demand concerning an end to the fighting," she said.

A U.S. official, asked about Israel's reaction, said it was "important in this situation to separate public statements, which are made for public effect, from private negotiations."

Two days after Rogers spoke, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad told the U.N. General Assembly that a separate agreement to reopen the Suez Canal would be a trap to the Arab world and would serve as a "springboard for further Israeli aggression."

Riad did not comment directly on Rogers' plan, however, and U.S. officials said he did not appear to close any doors on the American effort to achieve an interim settlement. But the Egyptian minister said any agreement to reopen the canal must be part of an overall peace plan that included Israeli withdrawal from the territory it occupied during the 1967 war.

Arkansas Lawyer and a Woman on List for High Court Position

By BARRY SCHWEID Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — A municipal-bond lawyer in Arkansas and a veteran woman judge in California are two of six prospective nominees for the Supreme Court undergoing American Bar Association investigation.

The two, Herschel Friday of Little Rock and Mildred Lillie of Los Angeles, may be in the lead for the vacancies at this point. The ABA is conducting the inquiry for the Justice Department.

The four other names forwarded to the ABA judiciary committee for preliminary checks are Judges Paul H. Roney and Charles Clark of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-A. Va., and Judge Sylvia Bacon of the District of Columbia Superior Court.

The ABA committee, headed by Lawrence E. Walsh, a New York lawyer, probably will meet to make a final judgment of the candidates' qualifications early next week.

President Nixon will announce his choices later in the week. If the Senate gives its approval, the two new justices will take the seats vacated in September by Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan.

At any time along the way, the administration could scale down the number of prospects. Similarly, the ABA committee, in making informal reports to Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, could suggest a candidate be dropped.

General Who Lost Star to Testify

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL Associated Press Writer FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — A general who lost a star and his career because of My Lai testified today as a witness against Col. Oran K. Henderson, the only officer brought to court-martial on charges of attempting to conceal the 1968 massacre of civilians.

Brig. Gen. Samuel W. Koster will be one of the prosecution's last and most important witnesses in Henderson's eight-week-old trial.

Koster, 51, was commander of the Americal Division, parent unit of Henderson's 11th Infantry Brigade, when a company in that brigade made its bloody sweep through the South Vietnamese village.

Like Henderson, Koster once was charged with dereliction of duty. But the charges were dismissed last January and four months later Koster was promoted from major general, in effect the death knell to his career.

Henderson is being tried on charges that he failed to conduct a proper investigation into reports of indiscriminate killings of civilians; that he failed to forward the allegations to higher command; and that he lied twice to a Pentagon inquiry.

Koster, born in West Liberty, Iowa, has held a number of important Army posts in his 29-year career, including that of commandant of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Koster became a major general March 1, 1968—15 days before the My Lai operation—and was promoted to West Point three months later. But when charges were preferred against him, Koster resigned the post with an emotional lunch-time speech to the massed cadets.

The prosecution, at a recent out-of-court hearing, contended that this was the sequence of events in the period after My Lai:

—Acting on aviators' reports of wanton killing of unarmed and unresisting civilians at My Lai, Brig. Gen. George H. Young, Koster's deputy, ordered Henderson to conduct an investigation.

—Henderson made an oral report to Koster a few days later that 20 civilians were inadvertently killed by helicopter and gunfire. Koster was dissatisfied with the report.

—Several weeks later, Koster read a Viet Cong propaganda leaflet that 450-500 Vietnamese civilians were killed at My Lai. He asked Henderson for a formal investigation.

late Wednesday a list has been sent to the ABA. The names of the six prospects were obtained from qualified legal sources outside the government.

Friday, 49, is widely known in the South as a municipal-bond attorney and as a lawyer for school boards in desegregation cases. His most prominent assignment in this respect was representing the Little Rock board in a series of disputes in the 1950s that featured then-Gov. Orville Faubus. He is experienced also in labor law. Friday is a Democrat.

Mrs. Lillie, 56, has been a California state appeals court judge since 1958 and has 24 years of judicial experience. A native of Iowa and a Democrat, she began her legal career as a federal prosecutor. She could become the first woman justice.

Roney, 50, was named to the federal appeals court in New Orleans last November by Nixon. He succeeded G. Harrold Carswell, who entered politics after the Senate rejected his nomination to the Supreme Court. The ABA committee, checking Roney's qualifications for the circuit bench, found the former St. Petersburg, Fla., lawyer "well-qualified." Roney is a Republican and a leader of the Florida bar association.

Clark, 46, was appointed to the court in New Orleans by Nixon in 1969. The ABA found him "well-qualified." Before that he practiced law in Jackson, Miss. He is a Democrat and represented then-Gov. Ross Barnett in a contempt prosecution that grew out of a desegregation squabble a decade ago.

Byrd, 53, is Democratic Whip in the Senate where he has served since 1958. He was in the West Virginia Legislature five years and in the U.S. House five years. He earned a law degree from American University in 1963.

The White House confirmed earlier that Byrd is under consideration for the high court.

Judge Bacon, 40, was appointed to the District of Columbia Superior Court by Nixon a year ago. A Republican and a native of South Dakota, she was a justice Department lawyer specializing in administrative court reforms.

Two Nixon nominees, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun, serve on the Supreme Court. Carswell and an earlier Nixon nominee, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of the U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond, Va., were rejected by the Senate.

injunction requests to bar violations.

Nixon's power to control wages, prices and rents expires next April. The administration says it will seek authority to extend that power to interest and dividends "as a backup."

There are no plans to use the interest and dividend controls, it says.

But that was the administration's position earlier this year when it removed previous objections to the bill that provided Nixon with authority to impose the 90-day freeze Aug. 15.

As the administration moved to get its legislation in line, Treasury Secretary John B. Connally made a plea for bipartisan support of Nixon's new economic program, telling a group set up to promote Phase 2 that the fears of the "prophecies of doom" are unjustified.

Connally said there are a number of critics of Nixon's Phase 2 plan but he said the criticism is largely based on the fact that the pay board and Price Commission have yet to develop permissible standards.

Citizens for a New Prosperity, primarily a business-oriented group billing itself as non-partisan, launched its program to promote Phase 2. It said it would try to spread support for the program through the media and through educational efforts in each state.

The government Wednesday eased previous requirements for posting ceiling prices during the 90-day freeze.

Import Autos Announce Price Hikes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Volkswagen and Datsun have announced price increases for 1972 models, which coupled with the new 10 per cent import surcharge will give American minicars a competitive edge.

Volkswagen also announced price hikes for two other cars it manufactures, the Audi and the Porsche.

Volkswagen said Wednesday the suggested price on its best-seller, the Super Beetle, would go up $145 to $2,278, including a new import surcharge of $75.99 under President Nixon's economic program.

Datsun said its least expensive model, the Datsun 1200, would go to $2,114 from $1,866, including the import surcharge.

For Volkswagen, the price increase without addition of the surcharge amounts to 6.8 per cent, for Datsun 7 per cent.

American-made minicars will carry 1972 price tags of $1,919 for Ford's Pinto; $2,040 for American Motors' Gremlin and $2,075 for GM's Vega.

Robert O. Link, vice president of sales for the Nissan Motor Corp., U.S. distributors for Datsun, said the Datsun price hike was due entirely to upward revaluation of the Japanese yen.

In Englewood Cliffs, N.J., a Volkswagen spokesman said increases in Volkswagen's suggested prices were a result of upward revaluation of the German mark and an increase in world market prices.

Both the mark and yen went up as a result of Nixon's economic program.

He said the suggested price boost for Audis and Porsches would range from 3 to 8.5 per cent, with Audis going to $3,208 from $3,133 and Porsches to $3,960 from $3,769.

Two Killed in Collision at Bald Knob

BALD KNOB, Ark. (AP) — Two White County men were killed and a Little Rock man was injured late Wednesday in a two-vehicle collision on Arkansas 167 near Bald Knob.

State Police Trooper Gerald Pankey identified the dead men as Herschel M. Austin, 49, and Vernon Guthrie, 56, both of Bradford.

Pankey said a pickup truck occupied by the two men collided with a tractor-trailer truck driven by Harold Raymond Cates, 31, of Little Rock. Cates was treated and released at a Searcy hospital.

Judge Lets Juvenile Case Be Recorded

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The 17-year-old girl had been charged with being a runaway, being incorrigible, and shoplifting. As she pleaded with the judge to let her return home, television cameras recorded the hearing for broadcast later.

The departure from the normal court reluctance to disclose details of juvenile cases was authorized by Judge Michael Corrigan of Sedgewick County Juvenile Court as part of his quest for new methods to replace past efforts that he says have had very little deterrent effect.

"If we as juvenile judges, and juvenile courts, are going to have any effect in the future," he reasons, "it's time we direct our attention to methods that might change the attitudes of young people who might be in trouble."

Allowing the television cameras and microphones into his courtroom last month was the latest step in a program he began about a year ago to give the news media access, under certain restrictions, to material from his court. His search for new methods also includes a program to build up a corps of 250 volunteer probation counselors.

Names of juveniles are sometimes withheld in reporting cases from the court, but for the televised case the girl's name was used and cameras were allowed to show a front view of her.

Crews from KAKE-TV in Wichita filmed both the pretrial hearing and a later court ses-

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. S. GENE THOMPSON

Miss Terry Gay Riley and S. Gene Thompson exchanged marriage vows Saturday at 7:30 P.M. in the First Baptist Church in Pine Bluff. The couple greeted guests afterwards at a reception in the Fellowship Hall.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George R. Riley, Sr. of Pine Bluff and Mr. and Mrs. Grover L. Thompson of Hope.

Dr. John H. McClanahan officiated at the formal, double-ring ceremony. Nuptial music was provided by Norman Webb of Pine Bluff, organist, and Miss June West, of Pine Bluff, and Mrs. Billy Bob Hardman, of Arkadelphia, vocalists.

Mr. Riley escorted his daughter. Her ivory satin wedding gown featured an Empire waistline with an A-line silhouette. Reembroidered Alencon lace, jeweled with pearls and clusters of crystals, scalloped the Sabrina neckline and flows down the bodice and skirt. The traditional sleeves which button at the wrist are accented with the jeweled lace. The hemline of the skirt is laid with gold illusion. She carried a medieval peasant girl bouquet of wheat, oats, rice and cushion mums in the harvest colors of bronze and gold.

Bridesmaids were Miss Susie Willis, Miss Cynthia Willis and Miss Ann Hutchison, all of Pine Bluff, and Mrs. Ray Talbot, of Kodiak, Alaska, sister of the groom. They were dressed identically to the Honor attendant. Flower girls were the Misses Paula and Mollie DeBusk, of Little Rock, cousins to the bride, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. DeBusk, Jr. Miss Carrie Denise Lybrand, the bride's niece, distributed rice bags.

Billy Bob Hardman, of Arkadelphia, was best man. Groomsmen were Rick Riley, of Dallas, Texas, brother of the bride, Andy High, Jerry Monroe and Kenny McMurrough, all of Hope. Ushers were Mike Tolleson of Hope and Dick Warriner of Pine Bluff.

The sanctuary was centered with a brass fan candelabra flanked on each side with a pair of brass candle trees holding the honey gold tapers. A pair of gold pedestals holding arrangements of harvested pampas grass plumes, oats, wheat and mums in a blend of colors in bronze and golds. The aisles were decorated with single candle candelabra holding the honey gold tapers with the streamers and a bronze mum for the focal point.

The bride's table at the reception was centered with a candelabra arrangement of the bronze and gold mums with wheat and oats as an accent of the harvest styling. A companion arrangement of the same design was used on the groom's table.

Members of the house party were Miss Pam Butler of Hope, Miss Lynn Pumphrey and Mrs. Gail Hale and Mrs. Jamie Kohls, all of Little Rock and Mrs. Susan Lusby of Pine Bluff and Miss Glenda Lovett of Pine Bluff.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Carolyn Talbot of Lafayette, La., Mrs. Sally Spiegel of Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. James R. Riley of Corpus Christi, Tex.

After a short trip, the couple will be at home in Hope where the groom is employed as an accountant with Edwin A. Alderman and Associates.

Cherry Season
Cherries are out of season, but not in the fashion world. Keep cherries in bloom all year round. Clusters of cherries at the throat or lapel with matching cutlinks are reminiscent of the fashions of the 40s and fit right in with today's clothes.

Kitty Foyle Returns
The Kitty Foyle dress with all its charming innocence is back. The dress is black with white collar and cuffs, but instead of the everyday jersey or knit the fabrics of today are velvet and satin.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Churchwell, Houston, are the parents of a baby girl, born October 13. Their second daughter, she weighed 7 pounds, 9 ounces and has been named Julie Loy. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Churchwell of Hope and Elder and Mrs. Ed. Anderson of Houston.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With the first World Series night game in history occupying NBC's prime time Wednesday it might have been an occasion for the other two networks to slip in some repeats.

Along with the "Miss America Pageant," Bob Hope's Christmas show and the Super Bowl football game, baseball's daytime World Series games on weekends are inevitably the most popular programs of the year. Now, with a night game, the fourth Pittsburgh-Baltimore confrontation should rack up dramatic Nielsen ratings. They may have NBC saying wait til next year when all weekday World Series games will be played after dark.

As the Pirates were winning 4-3 and catching up with the Orioles in games, 2-2, there was time to note that the artificial lighting resulted in better-defined television pictures than those lit by daylight during the other three games.

Viewers who did steal away from baseball found "The Carol Burnett Show" having one of its better outings. Miss Burnett and company opened the show with a series of wild and witty spoofs of commercials. However, they were followed without a break or clue by a real sponsor's message—and it took almost a minute to realize it was not another satire.

Carol and guest Cass Elliot had a pleasant duet of old standard songs and Ken Berry was the center of a stimulating production number. This viewer enjoyed most a sketch in which Carol played Sonia Honey, a simple Norwegian skating star. Miss Burnett's hour is the most fun when the sketches have a target, in this case those old movie extravaganzas that made a star of Sonia Henie.

ABC presented in the half hour now regularly programmed by local stations, a news department special. Economist Arthur Okun and Sens. William Proxmire and Hubert H. Humphrey discussed and criticized aspects of Phase 2 of the Nixon administration's economic policy. It was a civilized but not particularly enlightening discussion.

As the TV sampling season comes to an end, it is obvious that several news series that began as weaklings are not getting any stronger.

According to the Nielsen ratings for the week of Sept. 27, shows that appear to be in a real trouble, at the bottom of the popularity list, are ABC's "Shirley's World," "The Man and the City" and "Getting Together." NBC's "The Good Life," "The Partners" and "The Funny Side," CBS's "Chicago Teddy Bears" and "Bears."

Vests are brighter and shorter than ever before. Usually made of knit fabrics, the vests can be worn with just about anything.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

"NOISE" TO PARENT IS "JOY" TO CHILD

Dear Generation Rap:
The back-to-school battle over noise has started at our house. I say teenagers can't concentrate enough to really study with their stereo or radio caterwauling. So I insist they turn off whatever is on when they go to their rooms to study.

I thought I'd won until I discovered they were using ear phones with their transistors.

They argue that they "think better" to music. This is "music"? The "sounds" our kids go for couldn't help but distract.

So far, I must admit their grades haven't slipped.

Am I wrong in insisting on a quiet, library-like study hour?

PARENT WHO "DOESN'T UNDERSTAND SUE'S VIEWS

Dear Parent:

Face it, our generation was brought up on noise pollution, and what's more, we enjoy it. Sounds that seem like "caterwauling" to parents actually help us concentrate. If your kids pull good grades, let 'em listen, okay? Thank.

P.S. Personally I can't study well in a library because it's too quiet. I feel more at home when a little kid goes screaming through the storybook section, or I can hear the click of typewriters back in the office.

And at home, my stereo is seldom turned off. —SUE HELEN YELIN'

Which sometimes drives ME to the library for a little peace and quiet!

Yes, Parent, as a gal who doesn't even care for Musak, I dearly love great hunks of silence. But what's "noise" to us is "joy" to our "Wired for sound" children. Sometimes it's better to close their bedroom door than fight a losing battle.

Incidentally, even libraries are tuning-in to the young generation's ear. One of the most popular in our area plays rock music, encourages talk above a whisper, and generally concedes that modern youth thrives on commotion.

for elders, but the kids make it their second home.) —HELEN Dear Sue and Helen:

I like a guy who seem to like me. Problem: He is known for getting girls real hooked on him, and then dropping them.

When I'm with him, I feel fine, but when I'm alone, thinking about him, I get uneasy. How should I play it? —ME TOO?

Dear M.T.:

...Cool!

A guy gets scared off if the girl likes him too much too soon. Make sure he gets hooked on you first. —SUE

Dear Me Too:

Beware of scalp-hunters who use adoring girls for ego trips. Keep him guessing. —Helen Dear Sue:

What do you think about this new idea of carrying the natural look so far that a girl doesn't shave her legs or underarms? —TONY

Dear Tony:

I think the idea stinks. —SUE NOTE FROM HELEN: ... And maybe not just the IDEA.

Sweater Revival
Sweaters from a few years back were long and loose. But today's sweaters are clingy and short to go with the slinky dresses and longer skirts. You can store those old sweaters in a closet until they're back in fashion or you can update them. Just cut the old sweater down to bolero length. If it's a pull-over cut two seams down the front to make it into a vest. Then bind the edges with decorative braid to make it look like a new sweater. Or if you like add a fringe to the bottom of the braid as a finishing touch.

Triple Option Wicked, Says Hog Coach

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Gang tackling and pursuit are no longer enough for a good defense, thanks to the triple option.

"The triple option sort of isolates everybody," says Mervin Johnson, who coordinates Arkansas' defense. "It puts you in a one on one situation everywhere."

Johnson says the triple option is even more effective when it unfolds from the wishbone-T.

"It's downright wicked the way Texas and Oklahoma run it," says Johnson.

The Razorbacks meet Texas Saturday at Little Rock in a nationally televised game. Both are unbeaten in the Southwest Conference and the winner would appear to have the inside track to the Cotton Bowl.

"In the past, you could offset the lack of personnel with a super, fanatical effort and great team pursuit," Johnson said. "This is not true in this offense."

"You've got to stay at home and protect your area," Johnson said. "If you play it perfectly you're in a one on one situation. If you play it less than perfectly because of the faking and ball handling you have less than one on one. That's when those long runs occur."

Oklahoma made a strong case for the ferocity of the wishbone last Saturday, beating Texas 48-27.

The Longhorns introduced the wishbone to college football in 1968 and then reeled off 31 straight regular season victories before running into the Sooners' version of the wishbone. It's natural to assume Texas knows the most about defending the wishbone, but the Sooners rushed for 435 yards last week.

In the triple option, the offense does not block the defensive tackle or defensive end. Instead, the offensive linemen fire down field and cut off the pursuit.

It's then up to the quarterback to read the defense.

In the first phase, the quarterback gives the football to the fullback. If the defensive tackle does not respect the fullback, the quarterback leaves the fullback with the fullback. If the tackle hits the fullback it's as good as a block and the quarterback retains the ball.

The quarterback then forces the defensive end to make a decision. If the end goes for the trailing back, the quarterback keeps and turns upfield. If the end takes the quarterback, the ball is flipped to the halfback who has another back in front of him. The split end blocks the safety and the lead back takes on the cornerback.

Johnson says Arkansas' defense should benefit from exposure to the wishbone last week. Baylor installed the wishbone

Results in Independent Cage Play

Here are the results of last night's games at Guernsey Gym: In the first game at 7:00 p.m. Baylor (14-0) downed ZECO by the score of 86 to 17. Powell and Quinn were the leading scorers for the winners with 22 and 17, respectively. In the second game at 9:00 p.m. Perry's Truck Stop defeated Young American 79 to 69. Leading scorers for Perry's were Ramsey and Lee with 20 and 18 respectively. Baylor pumped in 22, and Monk scored for the losers.

Next games are scheduled for Thursday, October 14, when Huntington plays Young American at 7:00 o'clock and at 9:00 p.m. Anderson-Frazier takes on Perry's Truck Stop.

Pirates Take on a Brand New Glow

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There was a brand new glow in the Pittsburgh Pirates for today's fifth World Series game against Baltimore and it was put there by a pair of rose-cheeked youngsters who began the most important game of their lives kidding each other in the bullpen.

Bruce Kison pitched 6 1-3 innings of one-hit relief ball and Milt May, swinging for his buddy, stroked the pinch single that drove in the winning run as the Pirates trounced the Orioles 4-3 Wednesday in the first World Series game ever played at night.

Their heroics tied the series at two victories apiece and set the stage for today's pivotal fifth game, with the Orioles sending first game winner Dave McNally against Pittsburgh's Nelson Briles.

It would be tough for the Birds and Bucs to match the dramatic show that the pulsating fourth game put on for a nationwide, prime time television audience estimated at between 55 and 60 million people.

And in the end, the issue was decided by two 21-year-old rookies who hang together just the way you might expect they would.

"He's my best friend on the club," said Kison, grinning at May. "We were both drafted together in 1968 and we played together in the rookie league."

They were a long way from those early professionals days when Kison marched out of the bullpen in the first inning Wednesday night. The Orioles had jumped Pirate starter Luke Walker for three quick runs and it was up to the slim youngster to see that things didn't get worse.

Only a few minutes before he went into the game, Kison was joking with May in the bullpen. "He was trying to sing the Star Spangled Banner," smiled Kison, "and it was terrible. I sort of glared at him — gave him a dirty look for the way he was singing."

After the National Anthem was over, Kison and May sat down next to each other, but it wasn't long before Kison was called away to the mound.

He got the pirates out of the horrendous first inning without further damage. Then Pittsburgh bounced off the deck with a pair of runs in the bottom of the first on doubles by Willie Stargell and Al Oliver — neither of whom produced much in the series up to that point.

Stargell's RBI was hit first in post-season play and Oliver was 1-for-10 until he delivered. The two runs left the Pirates one down and Kison set about the mission of keeping it that way. "With the bats we have, you figure we can catch up," the youngster said.

In the third, Richie Hebner singled and came along on hits by Roberto Clemente and Oliver. That tied it at 3-3 but the Bucs thought they should have had more.

On the pitch before his single, Clemente had cracked a line drive over the yellow home run line that circles the outfield fence. But Clemente's shot was waved foul by right field umpire John Rice, setting off a long protest.

But the single stood and so did the 3-3 tie despite Pirate threats that left the bases loaded in both the fifth and sixth innings.

"I knew," said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh, "that sooner or later, we'd push one of those runs across."

Fortunately for Kison, it was sooner rather than later.

With one out in the seventh, Bob Robertson singled and moved up on Manny Sanguillen's hit. Here Murtaugh went to his bench with Vic Daville swinging for Jackie Hernandez and hoping a fly ball to left center.

Paul Blair didn't reach the batter's box. The A's to the contrary, League West pitcher Blair didn't reach the batter's box.

The Indians reportedly have been turned down in their quest for a manager by Dave Bristol of the Milwaukee Brewers.

Not surprisingly, a former major league infielder and manager, a Cleveland farm hand, has been mentioned as candidate in line for the Indians managerial post.

21-Year-Old Kison Hero for Pirates

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three years ago Bruce Kison was in high school. Now he's giving lessons to major league hitters.

The baby of the Pittsburgh staff at age 21, Kison pitched nerveless relief as the Pirates beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 Wednesday night and evened the World Series at two games apiece.

"Maybe someone will recognize me now," said Kison after spinning 6 1-3 innings of one-hit ball. "They used to think I was the bat boy."

Small wonder. As recently as 1968, Kison was pitching high school ball in Pasco, Wash. It only took a few years of minor league brilliance to shoot him into the big time.

"I was watching the World Series on television at this time last year," said Kison, whose unemotional work on a big mound belies his young years.

"I don't get nervous," said the Pirates' ice man. "I'm just not an emotional guy. When they call me in from the bullpen, I know what I have to do."

"I have to throw strikes." Kison bailed starter Luke Walker out of trouble in the first inning and allowed only one hit—Paul Blair's bloop double—until he left for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning.

Kison wildness in the first game of the series at Baltimore proved his undoing, but it wasn't in his mind when he came in Wednesday night after the Orioles scored three runs. He got the final out of the first inning to win his first World Series game.

His fast ball hummed, riding in on the right-handed batters. His slider moved sharply. And he also served up a couple of slow curves. He was in control all the way.

"I threw strikes more consistently than last Saturday," said Kison. "I knew where the ball was going—that was the difference."

Kison also hit three batters, setting a World Series record for a single game. But that was nothing new—he has a history of wildness. Last year in the Class AA Eastern League, he set a record by hitting 21 batters in a season. But during another minor league season, he also pitched three no-hitters.

Kison joined Pittsburgh in July, gained six crucial victories and pitched several games of strong relief, including a powerful performance in the National League playoffs with the San Francisco Giants.

McCarthy Is Surprised at Action

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — John McCarthy, named Wednesday as head coach of the Buffalo Braves, said he had previously pictured himself as an eventual successor to Dolph Schayes.

But McCarthy, 36 said he had no idea his promotion from head scout to coach would come as suddenly as it did last night when Braves' owner Paul Snyder announced Schayes' dismissal.

"I think it's generally accepted that the scout—sometimes they call him assistant coach—is next in line," said the former Boston Celtics' player.

"I felt that was my status." But he added he had no inkling the Braves' 123-90 loss to Seattle Tuesday would trigger the firing of Schayes.

After making the announcement, Snyder admitted he had been thinking of changing the coach of his National Basketball Association club since last season, when the fledgling team accumulated 22 victories and 61 losses.

"I have the utmost respect for Dolph as a man, but I don't believe he was tough enough with the players," said Snyder.

Schayes, 44, remained sequestered in his home, but did say he planned to continue his coaching career.

It was the second time he had been fired as the coach of an NBA team. He was severed from the Philadelphia 76ers after they lost out in the 1966 playoffs, though earlier he had won the NBA Coach of the Year title for leading the team to the NBA Eastern title.

Orioles Will Find Out About Strategy

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles find out today if the strategic move Manager Earl Weaver made with his pitching staff pays off.

Weaver bypassed Dave McNally, Baltimore's ace for the past four seasons, and started Pat Dobson in Wednesday night's game as Pittsburgh won 4-3.

The Baltimore Manager said he skipped McNally, the first game winner who normally would have started Wednesday, "because I wanted him to have four days rest."

"I just felt his last ball would be better at this time of year with more rest. No one knows if it will be, but I get paid for trying that kind of stuff."

McNally, a 28-year-old left-hander, has a 3-1 record in World Series competition. He has won 87 games during the past four seasons, plus three in the American League Playoffs.

Outfielder Frank Robinson figured that in McNally and Jim Palmer, the second game winner, the Orioles should have an edge the rest of the way.

"It's just like starting over," Robinson said, "except that it's the best two-of-three now instead of four-of-seven."

For the second game in a row, the Orioles were throttled at the plate, getting only one hit off relievers Bruce Kison and Dave Giusti after the first three batters hit safely to launch a three-run opening inning off Luke Walker.

"When we score three runs in the first inning," Robinson said, "we shouldn't get beat 4-3. There's no way this club should be held without another run for 8 1-3 innings."

Kison, a 21-year-old right-hander, permitted only a second inning bloop double by Paul Blair during his 6 1-3 innings.

Pat Dobson, the fourth consecutive 20-game winner to start for Baltimore—Mike Cuellar lost game No. 3—struggled through 5 1-3 innings and left with the score tied 3-3.

"His control was off a little bit," said Weaver, who stuck with Dobson while the Pirates stranded 10 runners through the first six innings. "His stuff was

Bruins Look Like Anything But Champs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As they struggled through a miserable exhibition schedule and a dismal opening game, the Boston Bruins looked like anything but the defending East Division champions who had torn apart the National Hockey League record books last season.

But all that changed dramatically Wednesday night as the Bruins came out flying in New York and never slowed down, battering the New York Rangers 6-1.

"We just weren't skating last time," scoring champion Phil Esposito said of the Bruins' 4-1 loss to New York last Sunday night. "We are now."

In Wednesday night's other games, the Chicago Black Hawks edged St. Louis 1-0, the Pittsburgh Penguins topped the Los Angeles Kings 4-1 and the Philadelphia Flyers slipped by the California Golden Seals 5-4.

The Detroit Red Wings' game at Toronto was postponed due to the death of C. Stafford Smythe, president of the Maple Leafs.

Esposito put the Bruins on the scoreboard less than two minutes into the game and they broke it open with three goals in the second period.

Ed Westfall scored two goals and Mike Walton, Fred Stanfield and Derek Sanderson had one apiece while Rod Gilbert collecting his 500th career point, had the marker for the Rangers, who tied a NHL record last year by losing only twice at home.

Tony Esposito had an easy time of it in the Chicago nets as he kicked out only 18 shots to beat the Blues in the generally dull game enlivened by a rousing fight between Keith Magnuson of the Black Hawks and George Morrison.

Rookie Peter McDuffe was brilliant as he faced 34 Chicago shots but the St. Louis netminder's NHL debut was ruined when Cliff Koroll scored in the waning minutes of the second period for the game's only goal.

Gary Dornhefer scored with just 51 seconds remaining to give the Flyers their victory. Serge Bernier, Bobby Clarke, Jimmy Johnson and Simon Nolet had scored earlier for Philadelphia while the Golden Seals Norm Ferguson scored three goals and Bobby Sheehan got one.

The Penguins got off to early start against the Kings when Ken Schinkel scored a goal after just 56 seconds of the first period. Robert, Jean Pronovost and Greg Polis got the other Pittsburgh markers and Bill Flett scored for Los Angeles.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prominent sportsman Ralph C. Wilson and leading thoroughbred trainers John P. Campo and George T. Poole each are under 30-day suspension by the New York State Racing Commission.

Wilson, owner of the pro football Buffalo Bills who races horses at the Oxford Stable, the two trainers and Caldwell, were charged with concealing the ownership in several horses of a Ralph R. Libutti, also known as Robert Presti and Nicholas Spadea, the Commission said Wednesday.

The suspensions were effective Wednesday. Libutti is unlicensed as an

Lowe Returns to Hogs After Two Weeks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas offensive guard Glen Lowe returned to practice Wednesday after suffering a sprained ankle two weeks ago.

However, another Razorback, defensive halfback Steve Birdwell, chipped a bone in his ankle during practice and will miss the Texas game, according to Coach Frank Broyles.

Broyles sent the Porks through a brief workout Wednesday. The offense worked again on execution and the defense concentrated on recognition of plays.

"Our play recognition has been improving each day," said Broyles. "We've been filming our practices and refining them each day."

Broyles said the Porks were in good spirits and were progressing about as he had expected.

1--Carolina Cougars

ABA—Eastern Division

1970-71 finish: W 34, L 50—6th place

PROSPECTUS: Cougars sputtered last season, even though they finished only three games out of playoff spot. Defense was lax, rebounding was weak and even free throw shooting was atrocious—a team percentage of .659, by far worst in league. They're hoping for start of a new era, though, with arrival of newly wealthy rookie center Jim McDaniels, 7-footer from Western Kentucky. McDaniels, who showed up well against Artis Gilmore in college battles, should bring some fans in and move the Cougars up in standings.

FORWARDS: Agile Joe "Pogo" Caldwell (23.3 ppg) was Cougar bright spot last season after playing out contract with NBA's Atlanta Hawks. Though he has great jumping ability for a 6-5 man, his leaping is better at pleasing crowds than it is at grabbing rebounds (his average was 6.8), so he's no doubt glad McDaniels is around to help in that area. Frank Card (11.4) and Randy Mahaffey (11.2) shared other forward spot and neither distinguished himself. Cougars picked up gangly 6-9 Wayne Hightower (13.9) from Dallas in off-season and he should improve defense, plus add his 10 rebounds a game. Returnees Vann Willford (3.9) and Chuck Lloyd (4.7) and 6-7 rookie Ed Kemp from Adams State will need good training camps to stick around. Rating: C-

CENTER: McDaniels can shoot and rebound and he'll have to do plenty of both for Cougars. While Gilmore may have edge on him defensively, it would be no surprise if McDaniels turned into superior pro. If he doesn't, Cougars are in trouble because there's nobody behind him except another rookie, 6-10 Randy Denton from Duke. Rating: A

GUARDS: Sharpshooting veterans Bob Verga (18.8) and George Lehmann (17.3) are still mainstays. Lehmann was fifth in league in assists with 5.6 average, and was top three-point field goal shooter with 154 made and a marksmanlike .493 percentage. Rangy Larry Miller (12.1) and Gene Little (8.1) provided good relief last season and are back, trying to fight off rookies Ron Dorsey and Ted McClain, both of Tennessee State, and Bob Wenzel of Rutgers. Rating: B

PREDICTION: Even a strong rookie season by McDaniels can't work a miracle. Make them third in East.

Ex-Arkansan, Psychiatrist, Becomes Author

Dr. John E. Meeks, Mrs. (Anita), seated with Lindy and standing, Cathy, left and July.

Recent articles in the Dallas Times Herald and the Pine Bluff Commercial tell about Dr. John E. Meeks of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Meeks of Ft. 4, Pine Bluff, Ark., who is author of a new book, "The Fragile Alliance" An Orientation to the Outpatient Psychotherapy of the Adolescent."

The book has just been published by the Williams and Wilkins Company of Baltimore.

Meeks, a psychiatrist, specializes in adolescent and child psychiatry. He is a past director of the children's division of the Department of Psychiatry at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas.

A 1951 graduate of Pine Bluff High School, Dr. Meeks attended Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., and graduated from Hendrix College at Conway. He received his medical degree from the University of Tennessee Medical School at Memphis.

His earlier publications include, "Diagnosis of Emotional Disturbances in Children", the "Psychiatric Implications of Learning Disorders", and "Children Who Cheat at Games".

He is married to the former Anita Copeland of Hope and they have three daughters, Cathy, Julia, and Melinda.

Sketches on List of Court Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are thumbnail sketches of the six persons President Nixon has asked the American Bar Association to investigate as prospects for the two nominations to the Supreme Court he will submit to the Senate next week:

Mildred Lorie Lillie

A native of Ida Grove, Iowa, and a 1938 law graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, Mildred Lorie Lillie is a state Court of Appeals judge for the 2nd Appellate District in Southern California.

She was appointed an assistant U.S. attorney in 1942, then later won appointments to Municipal Court, to the California Superior Court and as presiding judge of the Domestic Relations Court of Los Angeles, the first woman to hold the post.

Her first husband, Cameron Lillie, died and Judge Lillie, 56, is now married to A. V. Falcone, a lawyer. They live near Beverly Hills, Calif. She has no children.

Charles Clark

President Nixon named Charles Clark, 46, to the 5th U.S. circuit Court of Appeals two years ago. A native of Jackson, Miss., Clark served as a naval officer in both World War II and the Korean War and practiced law in Jackson for 15 years prior to his judicial appointment.

He first gained prominence in 1962 when as a state attorney he defended Gov. Ross Barnett against federal contempt charges arising from the state's fight to keep James Meredith from enrolling as the first Negro student at the University of Mississippi.

Married to the former Emily Russell of Jackson and the father of seven children, Clark is considered a racial moderate by civil rights attorneys in Mississippi.

Herschel H. Friday

A Little Rock, Ark., attorney, Herschel H. Friday has represented the Little Rock school board since the 1958 school segregation crisis, arguing the city's position before the Supreme Court on a number of occasions.

When the Supreme Court banned prayers in public schools, Friday advised the school board to adhere to the decision, which he said was constitutionally correct.

Considered a moderate on school integration, the Lockesburg, Ark., native holds a law degree from the University of Arkansas. Friday, 49, is married to the former Nancy Elizabeth Hammett. They have two sons and a daughter.

Judge Sylvia Bacon was appointed seven months ago to the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. She is considered a strong advocate of law and order, with a legal background primarily in criminal prosecution.

A graduate of the Harvard Law School, she helped write the District of Columbia's crime bill with its "no knock" search and preventive detention provisions as an aide in the Justice Department.

A former assistant U.S. attorney, she recently urged that courts call a moratorium on hearing civil cases in order to clear court calendars of criminal cases. A native of Watertown, S.D., Judge Bacon is 46.

Robert C. Byrd

Robert C. Byrd, Democrat, majority whip in the U.S. Senate, is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which must pass on President Nixon's appointments to the Supreme Court.

The West Virginia Democrat, a native of North Wilkesboro, N.C., voted for the two Nixon appointees to the Supreme Court rejected by the Senate.

Michael David Braden, Hope to Miss Donna Jean Quillin, Hope, Ark.

John Henry Mitchell, Jr., Hope to Miss Linda Kay Lively, Hope, Ark.

Robert Pauley, Hope to Miss Linda Dixon, Buckner, Ark.

Percy Wayne Rosenbaum, Hope to Miss Brenda Elaine Hicks, Hope, Ark.

Judges Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and G. Harrold Carswell.

Byrd, 53, obtained a law degree from American University but never practiced law. He was once an organizer for the Ku Klux Klan but later denounced the organization. Considered a conservative, he is married and has two daughters.

Paul H. Roney

A resident of St. Petersburg, Fla., since 1925, Paul H. Roney was appointed as a judge on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in November 1970 by President Nixon.

A graduate of Harvard Law School and former president of the St. Petersburg Council on Human Relations, Roney is the founder of the law firm of Roney, Elmer, Woodworth and Jackson.

He has argued for judicial reform, saying a system created 200 years ago for 12 states and 2 million people is now inadequate for a nation of 50 states and 200 million people. Roney, 50, is married and the father of three children.

Reds Renew Cease-fire Proposal

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnam today renewed a proposal for cease-fire throughout Indochina and expressed hope that the bogged down Vietnam peace conference can "get out of sterile polemics."

Pham Dang Lam, head of Saigon's delegation to the Paris peace talks, told the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong: "In the immediate future, we do not see any obstacle to the establishing of a cease-fire in place throughout the Indochinese peninsula, a cease-fire which we have been proposing constantly for more than a year now. Such a cease-fire can only be beneficial to these meetings."

There was no indication that the Communists would agree. Both North Vietnam's Nguyen Minh Vy and the Viet Cong's Dinh Ba Thi in speaking to newsmen renewed their attack on President Nixon's policy of Vietnamizing the war.

Neither Hanoi's chief delegate, Xuan Thuy, nor the Viet Cong delegation leader, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh was at the conference today for the third week running. Mrs. Binh is reported in South Vietnam and Thuy is said to be suffering from the flu.

Bill to Protect Wild Animals

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Francis W. Sargent has signed into law a bill aimed at protecting and endangered species of wild animals.

Under the bill he signed Wednesday, sales would be forbidden in Massachusetts of products made from animals believed in danger of extinction.

Russia to Give More Aid to Egypt

By ROGER LEDDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — President Anwar Sadat of Egypt has left Moscow with a Soviet promise of more military aid, but a joint communique was silent on the new U.S. Middle East proposals.

The communique, issued Wednesday after two days of talks between Sadat and the Kremlin leaders, again blamed Israel and the United States for the crisis in the Middle East.

It said, "The main factor behind the continued dangerous situation in the area is the aggressive policy of Israel, which has the all-round support of the United States."

The Russians said they would "further strengthen the military might of Egypt." This was seen as an indication that Moscow and Cairo believe the United States will ship more arms to Israel.

There was no indication of the types or quantities of arms Egypt would get.

The communique seemed to reflect Soviet and Egyptian disillusionment with Washington's attempt to arrange an interim agreement that would reopen the Suez Canal and withdraw Israeli troops from the canal bank to some line back in the Sinai Desert.

The U.S. proposal of six points for discussion was presented last week in the United Nations by Secretary of State William P. Rogers. It calls for negotiation of compromises on the distance the Israelis would withdraw, the size and character of the Egyptian forces that could cross the canal, a cease-fire and Israeli use of the canal.

But the Soviet and Egyptian leaders reiterated their usual demand that Israel comply with a 1967 U.N. Security Council resolution and withdraw from "all Arab territories." Israel has refused a complete pullback.

Despite Sadat's recent purge of the pro-Moscow clique in his government and his support for Sudanese President Jaafar el Numeiri's successful repression of an attempted Communist coup, the Egyptian leader joined his hosts in a condemnation of "anticommunism and anti-Sovietism" in the Arab world.

The Russians in turn expressed the hope that the new federation of Egypt, Libya and Syria would "fulfill the aspirations of the Arab peoples and become the bulwark of unity for all the truly progressive forces in the Arab world."

Moscow previously had been cool toward the federation, fearing it might develop into a nationalist organization opposed to Soviet influence.

Purcell Leaves for Meeting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Joe Purcell, chairman of the Arkansas Democratic party, left Wednesday for a two-day meeting in Washington, D.C. of the Association of Democratic State Chairmen.

The gathering is in conjunction with a meeting of the Democratic National Convention next year.

Arkla Plan Rejected by the FPC

WASHINGTON (AP) — An examiner for the Federal Power Commission recommended Wednesday that the commission reject a plan proposed by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. for curtailment of natural gas delivery.

Alvin A. Kurtz, the presiding examiner, said the proposed plan was "discriminatory and preferential."

The company filed the plan last May 18 in response to an FPC policy statement of April 15 requiring interstate gas pipeline companies to assure the best service possible during coming winter months.

Arkla proposed to place strongest emphasis on serving what it termed "human needs" customers such as schools, churches, hospitals and residences.

Should a gas shortage occur, the company proposed to curtail service first to contractually interruptible customers.

The next to lose service would be customers that can use alternate fuels, and then those that cannot use alternate fuels.

Next in line would be small industrial customers and last of all the "human needs" group.

The plan originally was to take effect last June 15 but was suspended by the FPC to Oct. 15 at the request of the Arkansas Public Service Commission which contended the curtailment procedure could cause an electric power shortage in Arkansas.

Kurtz concluded the proposed

Thursday, October 14, 1971

program would not provide equal treatment for the utility's customers.

Kurtz said his decision does not prejudice the company's right to file a lawful curtailment proposal.

Parties have 30 days to file exceptions to his decision and that the commission itself has 10 days more to initiate a review on its own motion.

If there are no exceptions and no review the decision will become final at the end of the 40-day period.

de Valera Is 89 Today

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — President Eamon de Valera, once the stormy petrel of Irish politics and now the republic's Grand Old Man, is 89 today.

Almost completely blind, he holds his gangling 6-foot frame proudly erect at official functions—and constitutionally aloof from current Irish struggles so similar to the ones from which he led his country to independence from Britain 50 years ago.

The president plans to celebrate his birthday morning quietly in his mansion at Dublin's Phoenix Park, then travel 80 miles to the historic port city of Wexford to receive the freedom of the town.

There he will join a distinguished roll of Wexford freemen which includes the late President John F. Kennedy.

Wexford, on the southeast coast, was a cockpit of the 1798 rebellion against the British.

71. CARS OR TRUCKS

BUY LOW SELL HIGH

The day you sell your car could very well be Black Tuesday.

Which is why we'd like to let you in on a good thing. A common Volkswagen Beetle. According to the Official Used Car Directory, a 1969 Beetle that sold new for only around $2000 still sells used for around $1550 in 1971.

Our tip really isn't much of a revelation. Seasoned traders have known that since a Beetle requires very little upkeep, you don't have to make big investments in oil or gas issues.

And every Beetle is sealed underneath so the bottom won't suddenly fall out of your market.

And what other 3-year-old car can be sold honestly with the words: "It looks just like new."

When we introduced the Beetle in 1949, a lot of car makers did sell us short.

Now they're trying to make their own. We'd guess after 23 years and 18 million Volkswagens, somebody out there has spotted a trend.

Campaign to Push Mills Takes Leap

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The enigmatic campaign to push one of Congress' most powerful enigmas, Wilbur D. Mills, for the Democratic presidential nomination has taken a significant leap forward.

Sources closest to Mills say he is approaching a decision whether to drop his stance as a noncandidate who would accept a draft and become an avowed and active candidate.

Stripping up the pressures on Mills is what appears to be mounting personal animosity between President Nixon and the Arkansas Democrat, who as chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee has hitherto made it a point to get along, though not subserviently, with presidents of either party.

The draft-Mills campaign surfaced early this year. Now, the Draft Mills for President Committee occupies spacious quarters in an office building a few blocks from the White House, manned by a largely volunteer force of about 30.

In charge are Charles Ward, a Searcy, Ark., businessman whose enterprises include a bus-body factory and a computerized letter-writing service, and George Jernigan, a Little Rock attorney.

On Tuesday, a three-quarter-page advertisement in The Washington Post invited campaign contributions, asked volunteers to do standard campaign chores, and offered signs and bumper stickers.

Jernigan said in an interview the advertisement will be duplicated in selected newspapers.

Mills' congressional colleagues, past joking about the draft movement, are puzzled by what they see as a contradiction.

To most people not caught up in the draft excitement, odds against Mills winning the nomination appear long indeed. —Mills himself is nothing if not a realist. He keeps his own counsel, never foreclosing options and never bringing a major bill to the floor until he has assured himself he has the votes to pass it.

But what is Mills, the realist, up to now? No one has come up with a hard answer. Here are some that have been advanced:

Some of those most active in pushing Mills toward candidacy foresee a wide-open Democratic convention where none of the presently prominent contenders can come close to winning on early ballots.

Mills, going in with a faithful bloc largely of Southern delegates and a reserve of second-choice pledges garnered from some labor and business support, might—according to this theory—survive the fratricide among the front runners.

A different theory is advanced by some Southern members who, like Mills, are concerned with the tendency of their states in recent presidential elections to defect to Republican or third-party candidates.

Chile's Copper Seizure Poses a Dilemma

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Chile's uncompensated expropriation of two American copper firms has created Washington's most serious diplomatic dilemma in Latin America in several years. The decision by Chile three days ago not to reimburse the Kennecott Copper Co. and Anaconda Co. has raised the prospect that low levels of U.S. aid to Chile may be reduced even further.

The State Department Wednesday denounced the expropriation without payment as "deeply disappointing and disturbing," but withheld any specific punitive action against the 11-month old Socialist government of President Salvador Allende.

U.S. officials advocating a soft approach toward Chile say punitive actions could produce a wave of sympathy for Chile, leaving the United States more harmed than Chile.

Supporters of a hard line argue that to do nothing could jeopardize U.S. investments in Latin America, exposing the United States as little more than a "paper tiger" and risking strong congressional opposition to the entire foreign-assistance program.

Chile has not received a U.S. bilateral loan for years but has several loan applications pending in Interamerican Development Bank where the United States wields considerable influence.

The belief here is that sufficient votes from other bank members could be rounded up to insure defeat for the loan applications.

U.S. officials said Wednesday no decision has been made on the loan applications.

They conceded, however, that the expropriation issue "is a factor we would have to take into account." On economic grounds alone, they said, rejection of the loan applications may be appropriate in that Chile has no right to expect taxpayer-financed loans when it has created an environment hostile to foreign private investment.

BETHEL CHURCH HOLDS FAMILY DAY

The membership of Bethel A.M.E. Church will observe the 4th and final Family Day Worship Service for this Annual Conference year, Sunday, October 17, at the 10:50 a.m. worship hour.

All family units in attendance to this service are asked to be seated together. The chief usher, Mrs. Theuna Bishop will assist worshippers in this arrangement. The senior choir under the direction of Miss Brenda Wilson, will sing the Anthem-Hymn "How Great the Wisdom, Power, and Grace" by Cambridge. The Sacrament of Holy Baptism also will be observed in the worship service. The choir will descend from the platform to the church nave and sit with respective family units during the delivery of the Family Day sermon. R. J. Hicks will lead the congregation in the responsive scriptural reading and Mrs. E.L. Green will lead the Call to Worship Ritual. Dr. W.G. Teen Challenge at Blevins PTA

Teen Challenge, a group of teens that have been drug addicts and are now cured, presented an outstanding program at the Blevins P.T.A. meeting last Thursday.

Teen Challenge was formed in 1959 in New York by David Wilkinson, and has branched out into the major cities.

Phil Bryant, Mark Stowell, and Ron Williams gave their life history of when they started on drugs, 13 and 14 years old. First they started on mild drugs such as Uppers, Downers, Bennies, and sniffing glue and then went on to acid, pot, speed, smack, and L.S.D.

Their reasons for getting on drugs??? All of their friends were trying drugs, they thought they could find love and peace, that drugs would ease the pressure of their family life, and most of all they could escape reality.

Some of the reactions that their families had when they found out they were on drugs were: get out of our life... you must be joking, our kid on dope... and one family wouldn't believe that their son was on drugs and finally one night their son even hit up (gave himself a shot of heroin in front of his dad before he would believe that his son was a drug addict.)

How do you support a habit??? Steal anything and everything you can get your hands on.

The cure??? The one and only cure is Jesus Christ, love, and understanding.

Teen Challenge isn't supported by any government fund. It's strictly operated on donations, volunteers and lots of brotherly love.

If you know of anyone in need of help contact Teen Challenge, 1701 Center Street, Little Rock, Ark., or phone 374-9745.
